The Heart Sutra
as recited in FWBO Centres

The Bodhisattva of Compassion,
When he meditated deeply,
Saw the emptiness of all five
skandhas
And sundered the bonds that caused him suffering.

Here then,
Form is no other than emptiness,
Emptiness no other than form.
Form is only emptiness,
Emptiness only form.

Feeling, thought, and choice,
Consciousness itself,
Are the same as this.

All things are by nature void
They are not born or destroyed
Nor are they stained or pure
Nor do they wax or wane

So, in emptiness, no form,
No feeling, thought, or choice,
Nor is there consciousness.
No eye, ear, nose, tongue, body,
mind;
No colour, sound, smell, taste,
touch,
Or what the mind takes hold of,
Nor even act of sensing.

No ignorance or end of it,
Nor all that comes of ignorance;
No withering, no death,
No end of them.

Nor is there pain, or cause of pain,
Or cease in pain, or noble path
To lead from pain;
Not even wisdom to attain!
Attainment too is emptiness.

So know that the Bodhisattva
Holding to nothing whatever,
But dwelling in Prajna wisdom,
Is freed of delusive hindrance,
Rid of the fear bred by it,
And reaches clearest Nirvana.

All Buddhas of past and present,
Buddhas of future time,
Using this Prajna wisdom,
Come to full and perfect vision.

Hear then the great dharani,
The radiant peerless mantra,
The Prajnaparamita
Whose words allay all pain;
Hear and believe its truth!

pronunciation guide

In Pali and Sanskrit every letter is pronounced and there are no diphthongs. The short vowels a, i and u, are voiced more briefly than the others which are known as long vowels. An approximate guide to pronunciation is as follows:

Vowels:
- a as in `cut'
- a as in `cart'
- ai as in `high'
- au as in `out'
- e as in `veil'
- i as in `kick'
- i as in `bee'
- o as in `low'
- u as in `put'
- u as in `too'
- r as the ri in `trip' with some rolling of the sound

Consonants
- as in English, with the following qualifications:
- g hard as in `good'
- c soft as in `chat'
- d and t as in English, but with the tongue tip against the back of the upper front teeth
- d and t as in as t and d, but with the tongue tip curled up and backwards against the roof of the mouth h at the end of a word has a slight echo of the preceding vowel
- j as in `jay' unless followed by n when it may be hard as in `signal'
- s and s soft as in `shin'
- v is pronounced somewhere between English v and w

Nasal sounds:
- Before a consonant make the natural sound associated with that consonant:
  - nk as in `trunk'
  - ng as in `sang'
  - nc as in `crunch'
  - nj as in `hinge'
  - nt or nt, as in `tent'
  - nd or nd, as in `bend'
  - mp as in `limp'
  - mb as in `limbo'

Before vowels:
- n as ny in `banyan'
- m at the end of a word nasalizes the preceding vowel, as in the French bon.
- n as in `nit' but with the tongue tip against the back of the upper front teeth.
- n as in `nit', but with the tongue tip curled up and backwards against the roof of the mouth.

Aspirated consonants are shown followed immediately by the letter h, and should be pronounced with an audible out-breath. Note that `th' is always pronounced as in `shorthand', `ph' is always pronounced as in `haphazard'.

Doubled consonants are pronounced as such, e.g. sadda as in `midday', ks as in `bookshop'.
