Spring/Summer 2016

Early 2016 is brimming with ways to connect with other young people in the Dharma with events for Sub25s, young men, young women, and all. Bring your friends and make new ones!

Sub 25s Retreat - An Opportunity to Awaken: 1-3rd July, Adhithana

"This human birth is precious, an opportunity to awaken, but this body is impermanent. Ready or not one day I shall die"

Our lives are precious and brief. What is the best way to live? In which direction should we pour our energies and youth? How do we make the most of this human life? This weekend is an opportunity to explore these questions with like-minded people aged 25 or under. Book online: <http://adhithana.org/>

Young Men's Retreat - Awakening the King: 15-22nd April, Padmaloka

What is it that a man can aspire to in his life?

At best the modern world presents only limited, superficial and flawed answers to this question. Buddhism on the other hand offers a vast and awe-inspiring vision of our potential. On this retreat we will be focussing on the archetype of the king, specifically as expressed in the life and example of the Buddha and how this can empower our collective and individual Dharma lives. Book online: <http://www.padmaloaka.org.uk/>

Young Women's Weekend: 22-24th April, Taraloka

"Find the truth, and then live by it."

Another pithy piece of advice from Sangharakshita but how does it manifest? What is the truth? How do we live by it? This weekend is a precious opportunity for young women to come together to explore this exciting theme, make friends and have fun! Book online: <http://www.taraloka.org.uk/>
